COMMUNITY WEEK

Details of the forthcoming community week are given elsewhere in this issue. The number of activities planned indicates that the incoming Community Council intends to continue the excellent record of previous councils in providing a focus for the community of Maynooth. All residents should make every effort to come out and participate in the planned events. Maynooth and its surroundings provide a lovely environment in which to live, but it is still the interaction between people which makes it worth living here.

PARKING ON THE GALWAY ROAD

Following a recent editorial which suggested that extreme measure be taken to prevent motorists from parking on the green in front of the Parish church on the Galway road, the Editor was gently taken to task by the Tidy Towns Committee.

However, a recent Sunday morning illustrated just how difficult it is to make people see how their individual actions are collectively ruining our environment.

A motorist seen parking on the grass was politely reminded that his action was tearing up the grass, breaking the kerb, and thereby destroying what could be an attractive feature at the entrance to the town. So what might be an accurate description of his somewhat puzzled response. So what, it looks like the tidy towns will have to invest in something a bit more formidable, in order to make these lazy motorists park elsewhere.

WINCHESTER THREE APPEAL

All residents of Maynooth will join in our good wishes to the Cullen family. What must have been an intolerable burden has been lifted with the recent release of Finbar Cullen from an English prison, following the successful appeal against the verdict on the Winchester Three conspiracy case. We hope they can now enjoy a well deserved rest away from the glare of publicity which has focussed on them for the past two years.

FINALLY

Some attentive readers may have thought that the editorial writer is losing some marbles judging from recent editorials.

Yes, we all know (now) that Archbishop Connell is in Drumcondra, and that Archbishop MacNamara has passed on elsewhere. However, the last issue's reference to the current Minister for Education, Mrs. Hussey, was actually caused by a gremlin which ate up a whole sentence, and made a hames of a paragraph. For those less attentive readers, and in case it comes up in a table quiz, the current Minister is of course Mary O'Rourke.

RIGHT TO REPLY

In fairness to our readers and given that this magazine is not insured against libel damages or cost, we undertake the following: In the case of errors of fact we will publish corrections when we become aware of such. In the case of unfairly impugning the reputation of any person we hereby offer that person or their representative the right the reply in this magazine subject only to reasonable length, the laws of libel and our right to respond to such reply.

Dear Editor,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We were so horrified at hearing the news that Dublin Zoo might be closed that we decided to do something to help. We asked the boys of our school to contribute a small amount of money each. In all we collected £76.00 and each boy signed a petition against the closing of the Zoo. We then delivered the money and petition to the Zoo personally.

The Promotions Officer, Celine Henry, accepted the money gratefully. We would like to thank Mr. O'Connell, the School Principal, for allowing us to make the collection, and all the staff for their kind co-operation. Most of all we would like to thank all the boys who contributed so generously.

We remain, yours sincerely,

Gerard Anthony Furlong,
Anthony Daniel Kennedy,
Gerard McTiernan, 6th Class.

THEME TOWN CONCEPT

An application and outline plan has been made to Bord Failte and Kildare County Council for the inclusion of Maynooth in the "Theme Town Concept". Selection will take place in the next couple of weeks and the Council is hopeful that Maynooth will be selected as an example of a University and 18th Century estate town.

DEMOLITION OF THE "THING"

John McGinley told the meeting that it is now County Council policy to demolish the public toilets in the square. He pointed out however, that policy is not practice and that continued pressure will need to be exerted on the Council so that the Community can be rid of its worst eye sore.

MORE EYE SORES

"The Thing" is not the only item Maynooth needs to be rid of. All agree that the litter problem plus the unsightly and untidy state of the pavements, grass verges and weed-infested, walls and roadways were a disgrace to the Community as a whole. It would appear that the people of Maynooth take no pride in their town.

Constant pleas by the Tidy Towns Committee for help in cleaning up the town have been virtually ignored. While Kildare County Council must take some of the blame, it is the general attitude of the community as a whole who must take responsibility for the neglect of which should be one of the most visually beautiful towns in Ireland. A 'Town Gang' will shortly be available under an S.E.S. Scheme. This should ensure that areas such as Carton Avenue, the approach roads etc. will be better cared for, but will not of itself solve the problem. The Community as a whole will have to play its part. This will involve each house and business owner taking responsibility for the public space outside their homes/premises. It will also involve no personal littering and taking to task any litter lout seen.

COMMUNITY FESTIVAL

The Social and Recreational Committee are busy organising what should prove to be a very enjoyable Community Week, which will take place from 27th of June to 8th July. Owing to a previous booking Hudsons Carnival will be here from 14th June to 15th June. A provisional list of events is included elsewhere in the Newsletter.

CELBRIDGE CAMERA CLUB

Celbridge Camera Club would like to express thanks and appreciation to all who visited their stand, expressing interest in photography and the work of the Club during the recent Spring Fair.

The Club was formed five years ago and meets each Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Slip Hall Celbridge (at Castletown Gates).

If you are interested in photography, and would like to learn more why not join the Camera Club. Further information can

NO APPOINTMENTS NECESSARY

The new Chairperson of Maynooth Community Council needs no introduction to the people of Maynooth, John McGinley. John, a Donegal man, is married to Mary Morgan, has three children and has lived in Maynooth since 1974. He works with the E.S.B. as a technologist, where he is an executive member of his union, the E.S.B.O.A.

John is Chairperson of the Kildare Constituency Council of the Labour party and also Chairperson of the Maynooth branch of the party. He will be the party's local candidate in the next local elections.

He has been active in Community affairs since he came to live in Maynooth. At present he is an active member of his local residents association, the Maynooth Castle Restoration Committee and the Social and Recreational Committee.

John has a number of priorities set for the Community Council during his term of office. Chief among these is gaining Town Commission status for Maynooth. He feels that this would give the community proper funding and increased responsibility, allowing the people of the town decide for themselves what they want for the town.

Another priority is to see Maynooth develop so as to enhance its natural beauty as a place in which to live and to see the town develop as a major tourist attraction.

He sees this being achieved in two ways. At the moment the Castle Restoration Committee, a body representing the Community Council, the College, Schools and Chamber of Commerce, is making great progress under the guiding hand of Monsignor Ledwith, President of St. Patrick's College. It is hoped the Castle, probably the most important Norman Castle in the Leinster area, will soon be floodlit and a reception centre for visitors be built.

Q. My Unemployment Benefit is almost used up and I am about to go onto Assistance. For the past few months I have had a part-time job for two evenings a week, with the permission of the exchange which pays me my full benefit. What effect will this part-time evening work have on my assistance?

A. A person on Unemployment Benefit who has 78 weeks of PRSI paid in the previous three years may be allowed to do spare-time work i.e. work which is done outside their normal working hours and still be paid their full benefit.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL NEW CHAIR- PERSON

Secondly, John believes that Maynooth has a very good chance of being selected by Bord Failte for its 'Theme Town' scheme. This is a scheme whereby Board Failte, using E.C. heritage funds, will select towns with distinctive historical characteristics and develop them as major tourist attractions.

Under the guidance of John, the Community Council, Chamber of Commerce and the Carton Committee have already made application to Bord Failte for inclusion in the scheme and to the Kildare Council Manager. The preliminary report proposes that Maynooth be adopted as a classic example of a University and Estate town.

Between now and 1993 Bord Failte anticipates that £14 million will be invested in the best of Irish towns and villages. John feels strongly that Maynooth is ideally suited to the 'Theme Town' concept.

Firstly it is the only University town in Ireland. Secondly, Maynooth's history is inextricably linked with the Fitzgeralds, who had their main Castle built in the town, on lands granted by Strongbow in 1176. It was the Dukes of Leinster who

COMMUNITY INFORMATION CENTRE NOTES

However, the position will be different when you do go onto Assistance. In this case if you do any work whatsoever in the 24 hour period, you must sign off for that day and you won't receive any payments for that day at the exchange. The earnings from your job will not be assessed against your Unemployment Assistance. If this part-time work is likely to last for at least two months, it could be worth developed the present day structural layout of the town and as such it is one of the finest examples in Ireland of an 18th century Estate town.

The jewel in the crown is of course Carton House, home of the Dukes of Leinster after 1656. The long tree lined avenue connects the town, castle and college to the house and gives Maynooth one of its most distinctive features.

Surrounding Maynooth are some of the finest examples of 18th century Georgian houses such as Dowdstown and Moyglare, as well as a number of historic sites. The area is also home to many of the best stud farms in the world, a major tourist attraction.

The planned construction of the 'by pass' will improve the town's ability to develop its distinctive character, as has the development of the Canal Harbour by the Royal Canal Amenity Group.

Future plans would include the much sought after demolition of 'The Thing' (Public Toilets) in the square, repaving of footpaths, refurbishment of shopfronts and houses to adopt coherent colour schemes and facades consistent with the Theme of an Estate town.

The development of the town as a major tourist attraction would benefit the business community which will in turn lead to job creation, a major objective of the Community Council. The council has already succeeded in creating 14 jobs, and has the highest placement rate for permanent work in the country.

Under John's stewardship there is no doubt that the community's plans to develop Maynooth will be furthered in the coming years.

while going onto the part-time Job Incentive Scheme. Under this Scheme you can do part-time work of up to 24 hours each week and, in addition, you can be paid a supplement of £30 per week, if you are single or £50 if you are married, at the exchange. Enquire about this at the exchange.

RESIDENTS

Once again its "Tidy Estate" time and a bigger effort is needed to prepare the estate for the competition. Judging takes place in late June so there is not much time left. The committee was disappointed with the response to the last clean up and a second clean up is being organised for Saturday May the 26th. If everybody does a little it will ease the burden on those who make an effort.

A meeting of Officers and Committee of Carton Court Residents Association was held 7th May 1990 with a view to presenting the Summer Programme. The following items were agreed upon:-

1. A major clean up of the Estate
2. Barbecue
3. Children's Sports Day

Kingsbry Residents Association had their first of many social outings to be held this year on Saturday 12th May. The scene was set for a light hearted Pitch 'n' Putt competition to be held at Celbridge Golf and Pitch 'n' Putt range. The competition took a very relaxed form - competitors tee'd off at their leisure and at the end of the night six winners emerged. Prizes were presented in Norris's pub. In the

When the Co. Kildare branch of ACRA was formed last September one of the first tasks that we set ourselves was to seek affiliations from residents associations throughout the county. Through affiliation residents associations would be able to combine in a democratic and co-ordinated fashion to promote the interests of residents on a county wide basis.

Even after a short 8 months we are delighted to report great progress with this task. In recent weeks the two largest associations in Maynooth - Greenfields Estate and Kingsbry have affiliated. In Leixlip new affiliations are progressing steadily with Glendale Meadows and Newtown Park signing up recently.

But the best news so far is the affiliation of River Forest, Leixlip. With the 680 homes it is the largest estate in Leixlip and one of the biggest in the county.

ACRA COUNTY KILDARE BRANCH

FUNDING BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES FOR RESIDENTS ASSOCIATION

The following motion was passed at ACRA's A.G.M. held in the Mansion House, Dublin, last March:-

NOTES

Winners in last months draw were: 1st (£25) Joe and Geraldine O'Rourke, 2nd (£15) Mr and Mrs Siggins, and third (£10) Mr and Mrs Watson.

We wish those students resident in the estate success in their forth coming exams, and to those who are finishing this year we wish them 'the best of luck' in their chosen career.

respectively. But winning the best prizes of all - the booby prizes, were Robbie Dunning and Kathleen Keogh. Anyhow, a good night was had by all and we'd like to thank all those who supported.

Kingsbry held their annual 'Clean-up' on Saturday 26th May. The committee would like to thank everyone who came out and helped tidy up the appearance of the estate.

"That ACRA organise in 1990 a nationwide campaign for the introduction of financial support by Local Authorities for Residents' Associations. Such support is necessary to assist Associations in providing many important services for residents."

At great cost associations are cutting grass, planting trees, maintaining green spaces etc, and we believe that Kildare Co. Co. should help associations fund these services. Indeed such funding was available until 1986 and is presently available in Leixlip from their new Town Commission. We will be seeking support from all local residents' associations and then we intend lobbying Kildare Co. Co. to provide generous funds for all associations in the county.

Michael Quinn,
Secretary.

RAILPARK RESIDENTS ASSOCIATION NEWS

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The AGM of the Association was held on 29th March, in the back room of Caulfield's Lounge. The 90% of the adult population of Railpark who had other engagements on this auspicious occasion missed an entertaining evening, but they have already been informed of this via the local version of Maynooth Newsletter.

THE COMMITTEE

The following agreed to serve: Frank McCarrick, Chairperson, Kay MacKeogh, Secretary/PRO, Eamonn MacKeogh, Treasurer, Committee members: Eddie Tobin, Tommy Killian, Mick Higgins, Aine Hearn-Kennedy, Joe Buckley, Brid Keenan, Pat Carr, Mary Grennell, Michael Keenan.

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH SCHEME

Aine Hearn-Kennedy reports that there has been less crime since the scheme was introduced - certainly the presence of the squad car in the estate, courtesy of Sergeant Joe Canny, may be of some help

The good news for all residents is that a Committee has been formed with a contact person from each road who will act as caretaker and work towards the upkeep of the estate. Many thanks to all those civic-minded people who participated in the 'clean-up' day. A special thanks to Tony Murray, Tagadoc Developments and Pat Travers for their assistance.

The response to the appeal for the contributions towards the cutting of the grass has been a huge success with almost every house in the estate co-operation. Sadly there are still those among us who want all the benefits of a clean estate without contributing. Fortunately they are in a tiny minority.

GOING ON HOLIDAYS

If you're planning to go on holiday this year, - don't keep it to yourself - tell us, even though we may be jealous, we'll do our best to advise on security arrangements, and keep an eye on your house while you're basking in Costa Del Kilbeggan.

If you're going abroad, now is the time to check your passport. If it is out of date, renew it now, and bon-voyage.

CHILDREN PLAYING

With the long stretch in the evenings, children are out and about, especially here. Aine is to arrange a meeting in the near future, to rejuvenate the scheme, to remind older residents and inform new residents of how the scheme works.

ACRA

ACRA, the Central Body for Residents' Associations has invited the Association to affiliate. This is being considered by the Committee.

ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

There was some depression at the poor performance of Railpark in recent tidy estates competitions, despite the heroic efforts of some residents to maintain the public areas, and to emulate the Botanic Gardens in their immediate surroundings. However, some other residents are not so diligent, and tend to leave gardens and grass verges to revert back to the not so virgin forest. Also some residents are dumping domestic rubbish into the ditch at the back of Railpark causing flooding into other residents' gardens.

A special effort is required in June, so a clean up day is being held on 23rd June.

BEAUFIELD NEWS

There are two representatives for Beaufield on the Community Council. They are John McDermott of Beaufield Avenue and Anna Kavanagh of Beaufield Lawns.

Following the last meeting in the parish hall, a small working party has been set-up to examine the feasibility of forming a formal residents association. It would be very much appreciated if you made your views known to the contact person on your road. Those involved are anxious that any future committee which is formed

A skip will be provided as usual, for large items of junk only, not for the domestic rubbish which has accumulated while you decide whether or not to pay your refuse charges.

FINANCE

As usual, we're in the red, due to a certain lack of efforts in the subscription collection and payment department. The subscription this year is £10, and collectors will be calling on all residents. Pensioners, unemployed and those on low incomes are not expected to contribute, although small donations would be welcome.

BARBECUE

Finally, we are happy to announce that the annual midsummers barbecue will be held on Saturday, 23rd June, at 8.00 p.m., in the usual place. All residents and friends are welcome to attend this social highlight of the season, to meet their neighbours and to renew acquaintances. The Association provides the barbecue - residents supply the sausages, burgers, steak and the entertainment.

be democratic and reflect the views of all residents in so far as this is possible. As yet there is no contact person for Beaufield Gardens.

Community Weeks is taking place shortly and those interested in taking part in the Male 7-A-Side inter estate tournament should contact John Dunne no. 6 Beaufield Lawns. Contestants must be over 30 years and not playing competitively. Those interested in taking part in the ladies 7-A-Side should contact Linda Cullen no. 8 Beaufield Lawns. Contestants must be over 25 years of age.

GARDA TALK

when the school holidays arrive. Don't forget our warning in the last issue of the Newsletter: Know Where Your Children are at all Times.

With you young (and not so young) playing on the roads, now is the time to give a little attention to the aspect of Road Safety. It is an all too familiar sight - the child knocked down running out on the road after a ball, or cycling 4.5 or 6 abreast with an irate motorist behind. A lot of these type of accidents can be prevented. A little consideration by all concerned, especially by parents in giving good example, and advice will go a long way. The Gardai will be visiting the schools before the holiday break-up, to give a talk on road safety.

P.S. This author is availing of his holidays - thus the short contribution.

Your local Gardai.

ROYAL CANAL NEWS

We are delighted to be able to report this month that our swans hatched three cygnets, two of which disappeared in uncertain circumstances. That the cygnets were attacked by a large pike or by some bird of prey cannot be ruled out and we would very much like to hear from anyone with information as to the demise of the cygnets. Swan lovers in and around Maynooth will be gladdened by the sight of a cygnet once again.

Sunday the 6th of May saw large crowds make their way to the North Kildare Club where the Royal Canal Jamboree was taking place. There were many events in the Jamboree including: fishing competitions All Ireland Canoe championships, pub tub derby and the "It's A Knockout" competition which was televised for transmission in the Autumn. Winners in the fishing competition were: Senior 1st Christy McLoughlin, Enfield, 2nd Fergus Crowe, Summerhill, 3rd Brian O'Donoghue, Enfield; Junior 1st Derek Greville, 2nd Bobby Milton, 3rd Mark O'Donoghue. The Institute of Education came first in the "It's a Knockout" with publishers Gill and McMillan in second place and the Institute of Education (business section) third. Fifteen public houses took part in the Pub Tub Derby which was won by The Manor Inn, Naas. The proceedings were officially opened by Mr. Alan Dukes T.D. who also turned the first sod on the new all weather pitch at the North Kildare club. Mr. Dukes was also introduced to the Jamboree Queen Eavan Salmon of Cow and Gate, who was selected at a disco the previous evening, and also to the Air Corps who demonstrated Air-Sea Rescue. Also present at the Jamboree was the very beautiful "Mosney Mermaid". This was the first time the Mermaid ever left Mosney's Fun Tropica other than a brief T.V. appearance.

Sponsors of the various competitions included:

Travel Options Maynooth, B & I, R.T.E., Doyle Electrical Kilcock, Wells Hotel (Restaurant), Roadstone Ltd., Mrs. Leslie Harris and many many more.

The Jamboree was organised by the Lions Club to raise funds for: Senior Citizens holiday fund, Maynooth Brass Band, Stewarts Hospital, and the Royal Canal Amenity Group.

This years Spring Fair which as usual was organised jointly with the Boys National School was a resounding success with a big increase in outdoor stands. Sincere thanks to all those who helped in any way to make it the success it was.

Once again we would remind all those using the canal's amenities that danger does exist for those who act in an irresponsible manner in the vicinity of the waterway. Please treat the canal as you would any river or lake and follow the usual water safety rules.

CARTON HOUSE OPEN DAYS

Carton House will be open to the public on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th June from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. each day. Admission will be £2 per adult, 50p per child.
Carton, former house of the Fitzgeralds, Dukes of Leinster is, one of the finest examples of an eighteenth century house and demesne.

Carton forms part of the Manor of Maynooth which was granted to Maurice Fitzgerald, by Strongbow in 1176. It became the residence of the Fitzgeralds in 1739.

The 19th Earl of Kildare had Carton enlarged and redesigned by the famous architect Richard Cassells. It is his genius which has given Carton its distinction and beauty. Both the exterior and interior are perfectly proportioned and the interior architecture and decor are superb examples of 18th century ornamentation. The 3 open days present a unique opportunity to view the house and grounds. Carton is closed throughout the year to the public and its future is uncertain. It is one of our national treasures comparable to Castletown, Muckross and Powerscourt. As such more than well worth seeing.

On May 3rd at 10.30 a.m. or thereabouts, part of Maynooth's history was felled. A dear Ash tree of approximately 250 years of age had to be cut down. A tree surgeon helped by his team of workers predicted her falling with great professional accuracy and she lay across the road out onto the grassy island in front of the College. The Ash was badly rotten and had to be cut down much to the dismay of the family in whose garden she had stood for generations. That done, the neighbouring Beech tree had her boughs trimmed and the wood was cleared away by the workers and within a few days the railings taken away to allow the tree a graceful fall, having since been reinstated and nothing marks the spot save the woody stump in which the family intend to plant another ash.

It seemed to me to mark in an uncanny way the sad demise of Cardinal O'Fiaich another great figure in the history of Maynooth and of Ireland.

One man's meat is another man's poison. We discussed here some months ago the requirements of Food Labelling laws so what about those other products which are not covered there and how are such "border-line" cases covered?

The issue frequently arises with such goods as cosmetics, disinfectants, certain 'foods' containing vitamins, minerals, herbal or amino acid ingredients (such as slimming products). It all depends on the definition of a MEDICAL PREPARATION OR COSMETIC PRODUCT.

Medical preparations are defined under the Health Act 1947. Put simply, they include any substance or preparation which may be used for the prevention or treatment of any human ailment, infirmity, injury or defect. Cosmetics are defined elsewhere in the coy language of such definitions (again put simply) as a substance or preparation intended for contact with the exterior parts of the body or with the teeth or mucous membranes of the oral cavity with the principal or sole intent of cleaning, protecting, changing the appearance of those bodily zones or correcting body-odours.

The manufacturing, wholesaling, importing and retailing of medical products require authorisation from the Minister for Health. Cosmetic products conforming to prescribed EC standards do not generally require such approvals unless the labelling or literature connected with them claims a medical property or use. For example, substances such as antibiotics, hormones, chloroform, etc., are not allowed in cosmetics and any commodities containing them would be regarded as medical products. Again, preparations intended to be ingested, inhaled, injected or implanted in the human body are not cosmetic products. Let us look at some sample situations: disinfectants not intended or unlikely to be used on humans are not medical preparations but they would be, if intended for use as an antiseptic for a cut or wound. Contact lens cleansing solutions are not medical preparations; the fluid which is used to hold the lens in place in the eye cavity is.

Foods may become medical preparations if:-

* made in a form such as capsules or tablets, contain vitamins, amino acids, minerals and/or herbs.

* and are represented as having any preventive, curative or remedial claim.

* when they go beyond the Department of Health's recommended daily intake and, where, in the case of herbs, they are recognised as having medicinal properties.

There are, of course, some exceptions on stipulated grounds, such as Carrageen Moss, Senna Pods or Senna Leaves.

MAYNOOTH POST PRIMARY SCHOOL

Maynooth Post Primary School added yet another trophy to their collection this year by winning their third final last Friday against Naas CBS. The final score 2 - 10 to 0 - 6 was a fair reflection of their superiority in this under 14 competition.

In a sunny but breezy day, Maynooth elected to play against the wind and quickly got into top gear by going 2 - 2 ahead without reply. Two very well taken goals by Cathal Ryan and Martin Lyons after some splendid approach play by half-backs Graham Kelly and Stephen King set up Maynooth for their eventual easy victory. Naas CBS tried hard and sportingly for the full hour but could not overcome the strength and depth of the boys from the Post Primary in Maynooth. Once Maynooth changed ends with a big half time lead and the wind at their backs the result was a foregone conclusion.

Best of a very well balanced Maynooth side were the entire half back line, centre-forward, Kevin Gannon, half-forward Pdraig Flood and Martin Regan when moved out field in the second half.

ST. MARY'S BRASS AND REED BAND - PRIZE WINNERS MAYNOOTH AND LIMERICK 1990

Thanks to the generosity of the Newsletter Editorial Committee we have been afforded the luxury of an entire full page in addition to our normal notes this month. Perhaps it is further recognition of our great dual win on St. Patrick's week-end.

At last we are in a position to put names to those handsome (masculine gender) attractive (feminine gender) and Uggh (senior gender) faces responsible for those victories. The majority of the present Band are less than 18 years of age and it is a tribute to both themselves and their tutors that success has been achieved at such a tender age. These young members are the product of music classes which began four years ago and by virtue of much hard work they have become quite accomplished musicians.

Much of this was in evidence last month when we entertained Senior Citizens and Parents at an excellent House Concert. During an entertaining musical programme we unveiled our latest crop of budding musicians when our trombone and percussion class members made their first public appearance. With the help of first class instructions from Dublin they have made remarkable progress in a short space of time and will be a most welcome addition to the Band.

All this progress highlights our urgent need for new uniforms which are needed to replace our existing ones which are more than 10 years old. We are at an advanced stage in the selection of materials and design but we cannot progress much further without the necessary finance.

We will require between £6,000 and £7,000 to completely fit out our existing Band without allowing for new members and we ask to be as generous as you have been in the past when we organise fund raising events later this year. We are proud to represent Maynooth no matter where we play and we hope you will ensure that we look as smart as you would wish.

Finally we would like to thank all those who supported our stand at the recent Trade Fair and to remind all those who expressed an interest in joining the Band that we shall be commencing a new course of classes in the Autumn and will contact all of you before then. Should anyone else like to join just drop in to the Band Hall on any Monday night (except the first two weeks in August) between 8.30 and 10 p.m. and leave your name with our Secretary, Elaine Bean.

Thank you most sincerely for your continued support.

BAND BULLETIN

Our uniform fund received a welcome boost from a number of events during the last month. Top of the list was the very successful 60's Night in the Hitchin Post.

A large crowd turned out to dance to 'The Sound of the Sixties' band which included three of our own band, Oliver Bright and Kevin and Paddy Boyd. A great night was had by all helped in no small way by the large number of spot prizes so generously sponsored by the following: Hind, Heineken, Maxol, Volvo, John Boyd, CPL Maynooth, Leo & Rose Bean, Mick Hyland, Pat Conroy, Westend Carpets, Elite Bakery, E.A. Coonan, Advance Office Supplies, Seans Newsagent, Hibernian Meats, Quinns-worth, Dan Logan, Flower Pot, Coyne and Bergin, New Waves Hair Salon, FMK Casuals, House Pride, TAB Tyres, Mary Boyd. Our sincere thanks to all these sponsors. We have had many requests for a repeat performance and we hope to stage another 60's Night later in the year. Thank you for your support.

Our debut at this year's Trade Fair was very much of an experimental nature but we were very pleased with the contributions to our Uniform Fund. Lets hope we can improve on our stand next year.

The Lions Club Jamboree in the North Kildare Club was a huge success and a terrific result for all the hard work which went into the organisation of this fund raising event. Hopefully the results of their labours will provide a further injection to our Uniform Fund.

On the Band front, last month we held a very successful social outing for all the members to the bowling Centre in Palmerstown by way of recognition for the dual success on St. Patrick's week-end.

All members worked so hard to achieve these results and we hope they enjoyed the reward.

Finally just a few of our engagements for the coming weeks:

Maynooth Section

June 4th
- Leixlip Salmon Festival

June 14th
- Corpus Christi Procession

June 16th

May we mention that all requests for the Band should be sent to :

Elaine Bean,
The Hon. Secretary at Rye View,
Maynooth.

TREASURE HUNT

As part of its Festival programme, the Community Council is organising for the first time, a treasure hunt on Sunday 7th July (from 2 p.m. - 6 p.m.). The route will cover approximately twenty miles starting and finishing in Maynooth. The event will be suitable for motorcycles and bicycles as well as cars. There will be no speed element involved in the competition. Competitors will be required to report to the finish not later than 6 p.m. No advantages will accrue to a team who cover the route in a shorter time than that set.

There will be awards/prizes for the 1st three teams o/a as well as prizes for best car, bicycle, motorcycle.

All those wishing to take part should ring the Community Council 285922 for entry forms.

MAYNOOTH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Maynooth Chamber of Commerce recently held its Annual General Meeting and it was a great loss for the Chamber when Michael Stapleton retired as chairman after three years excellent service. Ted Kehoe of Kehoe's Delicatessen was elected as the new Chairman, Declan Foley and Eugene Gargan were re-elected as Secretary and Treasurer respectively, and the new Committee includes Michael Stapleton, Pauline Burke, Paddy Ryan, Trevor Reilly, Tony Barrett and Jim McManus. The meeting noted that the Santa Claus Christmas Bonanza which they had organised had been an overwhelming success.

The Chamber decided on new projects for the coming year and all agreed that Kildare County Council should be urged to do something about the ridiculous state of the Public Toilets in the Square and the Footpaths in the Town.

Sergeant Bill White of Naas gardai specialising in Security gave a long talk and showed Videos which it was unanimously agreed was of great enlightenment to the members.

May was a very busy and exciting month. It was the time for the rescheduled Active Age Week which usually takes place in October and also for our celebration of the Silver Jubilee of the Maynooth Old People's Committee. The Committee came into being in 1965 as a result of the Red Cross' Year of Old Age. Members of the Maynooth branch together with other interested parties came together to look at the needs of the elderly. The Committee have gone from strength to strength over the ensuing 25 years.

Active Age Week started on Sunday 13th May with prayers for the elderly in the local churches and in the afternoon, with a party organised by the I.C.A. On Tuesday a coach load of our members visited Castletown House. They came back to Maynooth via the new Toll Bridge where the driver was able to stop long enough for everyone to appreciate the superb view of the Liffey Valley. On returning to the I.C.A. hut, we were able to enjoy cakes and tea - the latter with some difficulty brewed on a selection of gas rings since that was the day of the long electric cut. We would like to thank the driver and the Castletown guides for their kindness and Mr. Barton for providing the coach.

Also on Tuesday a good crowd enjoyed a really great evening at Caulfields. There was a sing song lead by Josie and Kevin and lovely refreshments. Our thanks to everyone who joined in and contributed special songs and also to Mrs. Carey, Bridie O'Brien and the staff of Caulfields for their kindness and for doing so well for us.

MAYNOOTH OLD PEOPLE'S COMMITTEE

On Thursday the special bingo session was very well attended and once again the committee members came up trumps with the refreshments. On Thursday evening St. Mary's Brass and Reed Band put on a special concert as their contribution for Active Age Week. This was very much appreciated by the elderly. Thank you very much St. Mary's Brass and Reed Band members especially those who missed the soccer match.

Sunday 20th May was a very special day for us all - the 25th Anniversary of the founding of the Old People's Committee. The celebrations were held in the S.V.D. Hostel and were attended by about 160 people. Our guests included past committee members: John Leach, administrator of the Eastern Health Board and members of the local community who have been so very supportive over the years. We started with mass celebrated by Fr. Phelan Jordan and Fr. Eoin Thynne. We then enjoyed a lovely meal, including a slice of the special anniversary cake made by Trish Cusker. This was followed by speeches given by Fr. Supple, John Leach and Imelda Delaney. Josie Moore thanked Imelda for the special contribution she had made as Chairperson in recent years. Presentations were then made to Patricia Cusker, Rita O'Reilly and Patsy Rafferty, who have been members of the committee throughout the 25 years. We then enjoyed an excellent entertainment lead by Josie and Kevin (it was lovely to have you with us Kevin) with items by Carol Barton, Eithne and Elaine Bean, Aileen Flood, Georgina and Vincent Mulready and Phil Donovan. We would like to thank the many people who helped to make this such a memorable occasion: Fr. Power for allowing us to use the Hostel, those with special roles in the Mass especially Frs. Jordan and Thynne; the Chamber of Commerce for the generous contribution towards the cost of the meal and the Cardinal Press for providing the invitations; Peter O'Brien and his staff for the care they took to make the tables so festive and the meal so enjoyable, to Trish Cusker who made the beautiful cake and Rose for her special flower arrangements, to the Committee members who donated the many raffle prizes and all who entertained us so well. Finally thank you to all the Senior citizens for all you have given to the Committee members in so many different ways throughout the years - God bless you all. We would like to extend our sympathy to the family and friends of Joe Murphy who died recently.

Congratulations and best wishes to Greta Payne who celebrates her 80th birthday on July 10th.

The outing will take place on June 2nd leaving the Band Hall at 1.30 p.m. Please be prompt.

The exhibition of handcrafts made by our Senior Citizens will be in the library for the next four weeks, do go along and have a look.

"Educate Together" the groups which helps communities to set up national schools where children of all faiths and those of none are educated together, where parents have a controlling say and the churches have not, have announced that a project to set up such a school in North Kildare is now under way. The announcement was made at the group's annual conference held on the 12th May at University College Galway. The contact person for parents interested in setting up the North Kildare School is Colin 271910 and Veronica 272822. A preliminary meeting of the school's organisers has been held in Celbridge and plans are in hand for a public meeting of interested parents which will be held at the Kildrought Inn, Celbridge on June 13th at 8 p.m. There are now nine multi-denominational national schools, with another to open shortly. The first one, at Dalkey, opened in 1978. 99% of the country's 3,000+ national schools are under the control and ownership of the Roman Catholic and Church of Ireland churches. Although there is an evident demand for schools of the multi-denominational type, as shown in successive surveys of opinion, progress has been slow at providing them. This is mainly because of the large financial costs to be borne by the school patrons, who must provide the school site and about 15% of the cost of the buildings. At one time the Department of Education was unsupportive, but this is changing, and there have been contestants with church interests. However Educate Together have made considerable progress during the past year. They have been recognised by the Minister and her Department as a negotiating body and they have made some progress in the issue of the appointment of teachers.

A MULTI DENOMINA- TIONAL SCHOOL FOR NORTH KILDARE

Report by John Colgan

There still remains several difficulties in this area. Because of the monopoly accorded to the churches by successive governments, no one can train as a teacher except in a church controlled college. National Teachers must be practising Catholics to get jobs in schools, even though they are paid entirely by the Department and teachers from multi-denominational schools are handicapped in getting transfers to church controlled schools. In turn, the multi-denominational schools have been pressed to employ redundant teachers from church controlled schools who are not accustomed to respecting the rights of parents to religious autonomy.

Minister Mary O'Rourke told the conference that she expected to produce proposals to provide for free transport to the sector's schools within the next two weeks. Up to now, Department officials refused to recognise the right of parents to choose which schools they sent their children too. If they were baptised Catholics, children were deemed ineligible for subsidised transport if a 'suitable' (RC) school - the department's coy description - was nearby. The Minister also indicated that her Departmental staff were looking at the thorny problem of recovering dis-used national school buildings for use by multi-denominational school groups. This issue had rarely arisen in the past because of rising births, but in the present climate, and more especially since the legal action taken against the Minister by the Campaign to Separate Church and State for failing to recover the protect millions of taxpayers moneys given to Carysfort Teacher Training College which has now been sold. Subsequent to this action, the Sisters of Mercy, who sold the premises and lands, have agreed to hand back nearly £2 million next July.

Many of the problems in the sector are due to the absence of legislation to secure and protect the rights of individuals - pupils, their parents, teachers, trainee teachers and taxpayers collectively. Ireland hasn't had a single law passed to control primary education since the state was established. And the Department of Education hasn't published an annual report or updated rules for national schools for 25 years. The Department 'caves in' under pressure from the leading interest groups - the teachers' unions and the institutional churches.

The Dail and Seanad, as the elected representatives of the people, have been 'locked out' of the whole process. In this Ireland is unique among the developed countries; all the others have democratic control over publicly funded education, operating under Acts of Parliament which can be changed at the will of the people.

It was one of those nights, when that dreaded wind from the west, the one they call, with reason, the kilcock, swept through the abandoned sweet wrappers, the forlorn condoms, the fag ends of life, on Main Street, Maynooth.

There were five of them, all searching for something. For teutonic, statuesque, blond Ira Von Furstenburg, it was that most miserable of creatures, a man. Voluptuous, brunette, Jessica Wretcher sought something to help her forget her writers block. Quiet, petite, mousy Agatha Cripsey merely longed for a quiet place in which to disappear. Dark, saturnine Mickey Swillanthin wanted revenge on the dirty rat who shot his paw with an arrow, and then there was Mat Locked. Thin, scholarly, weary, Mat was looking for the lost chord, or it may have been the last card, but who cared.

What brought them there together, on that fateful night? The 66 bus. And what made them stay? The Editor of Maynooth Newsletter.

As the oddly assorted quintet, as yet unknown to each other, disembarked from the belching leviathan, Ed had just completed the nightly perusal of the urban detritus, desperately seeking copy for the soon approaching deadline. Nothing much tonight, readers are bored with the nightly sweet wrapper etc on Main Street count. Time to resurrect Pub Spy again. But who? Commander Tara MacAdam, and Lucy Jacuzzi had finally been hunted down after last year's raid and were now in internal exile in Mullingar. The rest of the troop were still hiding out in the Bog of Allen.

Ed looked up. Who were these new guys in town? The newshound's nose sniffed out the link between them. "You guys lookin' for somethin'? How about us getting together. Maybe we'll find what we're lookin' for" Ed whispered, in the voice of one whose false teeth are at home in the tumbler beside the unmade bed.

It was a deal, and this is what they found.

It was 10.00 p.m. when they entered the red flocked wall-papered hush of Caulfield's Lounge. The few locals eyed the crew, and lifted a weary glass, or three. Service was speedy and functional. Ira stayed loyal to the family product, and ordered a glass of Furstenburg (99p); Jessica's white wine was served chilled, and in a small bottle (1.80); Agatha's gin and tonic came as she liked it with ice and a slice (1.82); Mickey's vodka and orange produced gasps of anguish at the price (2.10) and twinges of conscience (is Britvic South African, he wondered); Mat quietly sipped his pint of Guinness (a bit watery - 1.51). Total £8.22.

Ira enjoyed her sojourn in the ladies, ash trays, soap, hot water, hand drier, even smelled clean. Mat complimented the men's toilet on its comforts. Agatha contemplated the deeper meaning of providing soft tissue for women, and hard shiny stuff for men. What does this signify? Should the Equality Agency become involved?

At 10.20, the quintet, now happily exchanging life histories, quietly entered Bradys. Slightly fuller than Caulfield's, bar service was just as speedy and efficient. The same drinks cost £7.30, due mainly to the wine, one pound for a generous glass of chilled white wine, which Jessica adored. Mat found his pint to be of better quality than Caulfields. Ira was distraught to find that a rival family had cornered the lager market here, but condescended to sip with the Carlsbergs. A less suburban ambience characterises this locale, less attention to emptying ashtrays, and a fly did try to chat Ira up by landing on her nose.

The lighting in the men's was described by Mickey as only desperate, he didn't know where he was. But both male and female versions had soft white tissues, cold water, slivers of soap, and paper towel dispensers. Ventilation was problematical.

Onwards, Ed cried, to the Leinster Arms. It was 10.54. The decor by Laura Ghastly had not quietened down since last year. Owner must be a partitionist. Service efficient, a dirty glass replaced without quibble, and with profuse apologies, Agatha glad to be asked if she wanted ice and a slice. Barman cleared off table. Could be the quintet was drawing attention to itself. £8.34 for the round of drinks. The wine served in the familiar bottle.

All going well until Jessica discovered that there are other blocks besides writer's block. Toilets deplorable, patrons bring their own supplies of tissues. One toilet flooded. No towel, hand drier working but wish it didn't. Ira screamed, I've just had an organism! Mickey reported that the men's was being renovated so difficult to assess.

To the Roost, the intrepid five rushed at 11.18. And stopped. They had each found what they were looking for. Ira cried, 'that's him, I've found my man' (the others were too kind to remark on his marble pallor, the fact that he was wearing nothing but a bunch of grapes). Jessica was moved to poetry at last by the awe inspiring majesty of it all. Agatha knew that they would never find her here, in this little niche with the purple spotlight. The dirty rat who shot Mickey's paw lolled on the bar counter, encased in plaster, masquerading as Eros. And Mat, he found the lost chord, but was persuaded not to use it to find his way through the Labyrinth where Thescus the Minotaur lay in wait.

Having debated on whether they should order communion, the group realised that they were indeed in a house of alcoholic worship. The drinks were served quickly and efficiently (must be something wrong here. Ed.) Cost £8.29. Jessica had to accept red wine, in a bottle, the white having gone. Some confusion when she was offered a snipe of wine. This is what the little bottles are called.

Toilets require a BA in Classical Civilization, to identify. Venus Victorious denotes the womens' room, and no, the mens room does not rhyme. Go through the door marked Theseus the Minotaur, and you're there. All clean, well lit, tissue, soap and hand driers.

And so ended a typical night in the old town of Maynooth. The kilcock still riffled through the lime trees. The Pub Spy squad hopped on a bus to Dun Laoghaire, hoped it wasn't going too far. Ed picked up the tab, and the votes of the jury:

CLINICS

There has been an outstanding public response to date to the clinics held by our local deputies. For the record, Deputy Sean Power holds his in Caulfield's Public House on the Main Street on the third Thursday night of every month; Deputy Charlie McCreevey attends at Gerry Brady's Auctioneers office in the Main Street on the first Thursday night of the month.

MAYNOOTH SEWERAGE

At the recent Cumann meeting, members were happy to note that the combined efforts and representations of Deputies Power and McCreevey have brought good news from the Minister for the Environment to the effect that he has recently approved contract documents for the southside extension of the existing sewerage scheme. This now enables the County Council to seek tenders for the contract. Cumann members welcomed this development as being essential for the area's needs, bearing in mind particularly the rapid building development which continues under the present Government.

LABOUR PARTY NOTES

FLOOD LIGHTING FOR MAYNOOTH CASTLE

Over the last number of years the Branch have been in contact with the office of Public Works seeking to have a Flood-lighting system installed for the Castle. Under the auspices of the Maynooth Castle Committee it now appears that a lighting system will be installed in the coming months. John McGinley has received costings and a design from the E.S.B. and these have been approved by the O.P.W. Site trials to determine the best location for the flood-lights took place in early May and we hope the work will be completed in time for our Community Festival in early July.

Congratulations to Monsignor Ledwith and his Castle Committee for the great progress on the project to date.

FIRE HAZARD IN COUNCIL YARD

Emmet Stagg, TD, has made representations to the County Engineer regarding the burning of rubbish in the Council yard at the Harbour in Maynooth. Local residents are concerned at the nuisance this practise causes and on a number of occasions the fire brigade has had to be called to quench the fire. The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the Celbridge Area Committee and the Council have now agreed that rubbish should not be burned in the yard.

LOCAL ELECTIONS POSTPONED

As most people will be aware by now the Fianna Fail/PD coalition government have decided to postpone the Local Elections due this year until 1991 on the pretext of 'Local Government reform'. While there is no doubt that local government is in need of serious reform it is also obvious that the Government are simply afraid of the electorate - and with good cause!

QUARTERLY BULLETIN

Graphic and letterheads are now ready for our new publication and the first issue is expected shortly and will be distributed to all households.

SLOT MACHINES

Cumann members expressed disquiet at the arrival in the town of such machines and the fact that young people had access to them. It was resolved to take the issue up with our public representatives and the County Council.

EASTER DRAW

Congratulations to our winners of the draw which was very successful and also yielded a healthy contribution to the Cumann funds.

Local charges, the state of our roads, the threat of toll roads and cutbacks in our schools are some very good reasons why Fianna Fail and PD councillors don't want to face the electorate here in North Kildare this summer. Labours' three candidates in the area - John McGinley, Cllr. Colm Purcell and Emmet Stagg, TD, will continue to campaign on these issues and are confident that come 1991 there consistent stand for decent services and against local charges will meet with widespread support.

STRAFFAN ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

Following representation from Greenfield Residents Association, Deputy Stagg has received assurances from Kildare Co. Council that hedges and ditches on the Straffan Road will be repaired, and, if necessary, replaced when work on the motorway in that area is completed.

WORKERS' PARTY NOTES

SUCCESSFUL ARD FHEIS

This year's Workers' Party Ard Fheis received much more media coverage than it has in the past, for several reasons. Firstly, because of the Party's success in last year's General Election, it is now entitled to live television coverage. This included Proinsias de Rossa's Presidential Address, in which he reaffirmed the party's commitment to democratic socialism and to furthering the interests of all those groups who find themselves disadvantaged by undemocratic and unfair structures in Irish society. Proinsias de Rossa also called for a debate and review of Articles Two and Three of the Irish Constitution, whereby the government in the South claims legal jurisdiction over Northern Ireland, contrary to the wishes of the great majority in the North.

The Ard Fheis also drew attention because of the possible reverberations of the monumental political changes which have taken place in Eastern Europe over the last year. These changes were enthusiastically welcomed by delegates as being essential prerequisites to the building of true democratic socialism. The Ard Fheis confirmed the party's commitment to building a society in Ireland where the community would possess effective control over all major aspects of life, and use that control to assure the basic economic and social rights of every citizen.

Delegates also endorsed the party's decision-making structures whereby party policy is determined by the party branches through their delegates at the Ard Fheis, while the running of the party's day-to-day affairs is entrusted to a Central Executive Committee, also elected at the annual Ard Fheis. Party members are expected to respect the democratic decisions of the Ard Fheis, and to work towards the achievement of party policy. For some reason, the media seem to think there is something sinister about this arrangement, which is the most open and democratic of any Irish political party. The Ard Fheis also featured the public resignations of a number of prominent party members. This followed the taking of disciplinary action after an attempt was made to by-pass the normal democratic channels of discussion concerning party policy. It was disappointing to see long-time members who had done so much to build the party leaving in this way, but the episode has served to confirm the centrality of democracy in the party's structures.

MAYNOOTH BRANCH AGM

The Annual General Meeting of the Maynooth Branch of the Workers' Party was held on May 12. The following were the principal positions filled:

Chair: Proinsias Breathnach

Vice-Chair: Jim Walsh

Secretary: Kay MacKeogh

PRO: Fiachra O Ceilleachair

CULTURAL DOCUMENT LAUNCHED

The Workers' Party has just launched a discussion document which seeks to define a socialist approach to the promotion of culture in Irish society. The document defines culture in the broadest possible way to include such things as the mass media and our historical heritage. The party wishes to remove the "elite" image of much cultural activity by both promoting popular participation in cultural activities and maximum public access to cultural events. The document calls for increased state funding for these activities and events, but without accompanying state interference in their content. Copies of the document may be obtained by contacting 6285241.

BOB'S KITCHEN

Curried Prawns

1 tablespoon oil
1 medium onion, finely chopped
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 dessert apple, peeled, cored and diced
2-3 sticks celery heart, finely chopped
225g/8oz peeled prawns
1/2 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons thick mayonnaise
1 tablespoon tomato purée
300ml/1/2 pint single cream
salt and pepper

Heat the oil and cook the onion for 2 to 3 minutes only; it should still be slightly firm. Stir in the curry powder (the amount depends upon personal taste). Blend the apple and celery with the onion and curry powder. Add the prawns and the remaining ingredients and mix well. Chill for 1 hour before serving. Either serve on a bed of shredded lettuce or in a border of Rice Salad.

Fish Vol-au-Vents

8 medium vol-au-vents

350g/12oz cooked or canned fish
150g/1/4 pint thick White Sauce or thick mayonnaise

If serving hot, blend the fish with the hot sauce and put into the hot vol-au-vents just before the meal. If serving cold, add the cold fish to the cold sauce or mayonnaise and put into the cold pastry. By following this procedure you keep the pastry beautifully crisp.

THEATRE REVIEW

DANCING AT LUGHNASA - ABBEY THEATRE

'Anything goes' in Brian Friel's 'Dancing at Lughnasa' with ghosts from the future and the past dancing a ceilidh of rejuvenation in a time and place that transcends a world of physical pain and suffering. Friel's latest play is a veritable cornucopia of melodic delights, invigorating theatre, that breathes life into the soul of a forgotten age and a specific place, Ballybeg Co. Donegal. As the narrator Michael recounts, this is a world where Marconi is king and the dance reigns supreme. It is a dreamworld of halycon radio-days centred in the Mundy household which beats to the tribal drum of the wireless. Beaming from Athlone into this female dominated home it has a hypnotic effect, regulating and controlling the conversation and revealing the household's hierarchy. It is also a precursor of the industrial revolution (in Donegal), a mechanical icon of time that revives in the sisters the local tradition of dancing under the harvest moon. Maggie is the central emotive force in this tribal family and the catalyst of the dance.

The radio however, being mechanical, is subject to inexplicable breakdowns. It has in an ironic sense, a life of its own, stopping and starting in unpredictable fashion as if it too is controlled by external mystical forces. Breakdown is not exclusive to this device, as Jack (Barry McGovern), brother to the sisters, emerges as a disorientated figure who has apparently lost the art of communication in his new surroundings and has to relearn its language. He has only just returned from the missions in Uganda for health reasons, a victim of malaria (reasons which later turn out to be more psychical than physical). Parallels abound between these twin worlds of Jack - Uganda and Donegal. The young Michael paints kites, that can't fly, with masks that recall the ethnicity of his culture and Uncle Jack's travels. Likewise the boys from the hills with their strange customs reflect the native rituals of Africa.

Michael the 'love child' of Chris rarely meets his father, Gerry Evans (Paul Herzberg), who trips flamboyantly in and out of his life like a Welsh Fred Astaire who represents a more sophisticated external world. He is a gramophone peddler who in any other landscape would be a reprehensible figure but here, as a ghost of nostalgia he appears as a clownish likeable character. All the characters in fact are infused with a warmth and humanity that is both infectious and conver-sive. The final tableaux of all these ghosts, who have been reanimated through a menagerie of memories, is a moving and vivid scenario.

Anita Reeves as the earthy Maggie excels in a production that is replete with exceptional performances. She embodies the primordial impetus of the play, a figure of fun and gaiety. Like the wireless she is an integrative force even on the priggish Kate (a superb performance by Frances Tomelty). However it seems slightly unfair to highlight any particular role.
Individual and ensemble acting delight, in a weave of voices linked by the omniscient narrator (Gerard McSorley) who manages to conjure up these reveries with a pathos that is hauntingly convincing.

'Dancing at Lughnasa', which is incidentally a world premiere, marked the reopening of the recently renovated National Theatre. Patrick Mason's direction is tautly assured and conveys an intimate understanding of this dream-piece. The sharp set-design by Joe Vanek paints an idealised universe increasing the nostalgia-imbued atmosphere of a production which captures at once and unforgettably a moment in time on a bright August in Donegal in 1936.

Donal O'Donoghue

BLIND JOE

He lived way up among the woods
That clothe the blue slopes of the Catskills,
A striking, white-haired fellow
You'd take for Rip van Winkle,
Except that Joe was Irish,
A warrior from Roscommon or Mayo,
Who outdaring most of his countrymen,
Had ventured far beyond this city,
And following pioneer tradition,
Took up farming in a modest way
Till, fatefully, glaucoma struck him
But could not make him quit his homestead.
Each summer the latest generation
Of New York's Irish immigrants
When to the Catskills for a week or two,
And always after the swimming,
The shuffleboard, the visits to the creek,
The ample, wholesome food,
The drinking and the dancing in the bars,

POETRY CORNER

We'd make a pilgrimage to Blind Joe's farm,
Driving up wood-shadowed, twisting roads
To wonder at the guideline he had rigged
Between the cowshed and his home
And talk to him of country things.

And while he listed in in the open air
Blind Joe's sunburnt face would be alight,
No doubt because the untroubled voices
Brought some laughing crossroads back.
Finally, the ritual discourse ended

And the visitors as they said goodbye,
Recollecting absent fathers,
Pressed money into Blind Joe's hand,

Then drove off heartened by a courage,
Greater than ancient Oisín's at Elphin,
That, when the tourist had departed,
Would face alone the winter's onslaught.

I like to think that Joe still lives
Above East Durham on the farm he cleared
Out of the virginal, broad-leaved woods
And that he'll probably turn up one day
Just like Oisín or bewildered Rip,
Seeking the world he left behind
And wonder where the suntanned lads and girls,
Part Irish, part American, have gone
And tell strange tales to thrill the listener's ear,
For all of us recall a Land of Youth Where summer was unending and the hurt
That drove us from it is at last forgot.

CARDINAL TOMAS O FIAICH 1923 - 1990

Born Tomas Seamus O Fiaich in Anamar, Crossmaglen, South Armagh on November 3rd 1923. Patrick O Fiaich his father was principal at the Cregganduff Public Elementary School. This is where our Cardinal received his early education. His mother died when he was eight years old.

After Elementary School he attended St. Patrick's Secondary School in Armagh. In 1940 he entered Maynooth College. While studying in the College he suffered with pleurisy and pneumonia. Eventually he received his B.A. Degree in Celtic Studies in 1943 from the Catholic University of Louvain, France. Two years later he moved to St. Peter's College in Wexford. In 1948 he was ordained there for the Armagh Diocese. After his ordination he returned to Northern Ireland and was a curate in Moy, Co. Tyrone. In 1953 he was made lecturer in Modern History at Maynooth College. The President of the College at that time was Msgr. Edward Kissane. On the 13th October 1959 he was made Professor of Modern History. This was just the start of his hectic life. On the 9th of October 1968 he was made Registrar and that position lasted for two years until the 23rd of June 1970 when he was made Vice-President of the College. Then in June 1974 President.

In 1977 he was made Bishop of Armagh and in 1979 his full title was His Eminence Cardinal Tomas O Fiaich, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland. What a ladder he climbed and all in the space of 24 years.

Cardinal O Fiaich was a Trustee of the College until his death on the 8th of May. The staff and students of the College were quite used to seeing him wander about the Campus. This jovial person with a love for Irish song and dance, and of course history will be sadly missed throughout the College.

COLLEGE NOTES

CARDINAL TOMAS O FIAICH

Very deep shock and sorrow were occasioned in Maynooth College at the sudden death of Cardinal Tomas O Fiaich. Apart from being Chairman of the College's Board of Trustees, Cardinal O Fiaich was a former student and staff member in the College, during which he was at various times, Professor of History, Registrar and President. All who knew him remember him with great admiration and affection, especially for his human qualities, and his infectious enthusiasm for Irish history and culture. As a mark of homage and remembrance, a very beautiful and touchingly sung Mass was held in the College Chapel, featuring much of the traditional Irish music which the late Cardinal loved so much. Prayers were offered by many students and staff members, while offerings commemorating many aspects of the late Cardinal's life were presented. In a moving homily, College President Monsignor Michael Ledwith paid tribute to the Cardinal's contribution to the College, the Church and to Irish life in general. Ar dheis De go raibh a anam.

STAFF EXPANSION

The continued growth of student numbers in the College in recent years has not been matched by additional staff, with the result that staff/student ratios had begun to reach breaking point. However, the situation should improve considerably in the near future, due to the government sanction for additional new posts. Up to ten lecturing posts will be filled immediately as a result. In addition, a number of support staff in Administration, the Library and the Computer Centre will be recruited. Added to new developments in terms of additional facilities, this will contribute greatly to boosting morale and the quality of education available in the College.

BUILDING COMMENCES

Building work has commenced on the first of a number of major developments which are to take place on campus over the next couple of years. This is the new residence for lay students which is sited between the SMA Hostel and the Moyglare Road, immediately beyond the Post Primary School. The tastefully designed development will consist of a number of small three-storey units arranged around courtyards. Accommodation will consist of single bedroom/studies, with shared lounge and cooking facilities. The development will cater for 240 students, which should help take some of the accommodation pressure off the town of Maynooth, especially in view of the expansion of student numbers in the College which is expected over the next few years.

CAREERS GUIDANCE SERVICE

The Careers guidance service available in the College should improve greatly in the coming year, with the opening of the Careers Guidance office on three days a week (two days out of term), compared with the two half days provided at present. The office will also be expanded, so that the library and display area will be separate from the consultation room.

Derek Scholefield, who has provided part-time service for many years, will continue to operate the expanded service, which will include developing links between the College and potential employers of College graduates. This long overdue improvement should be of great benefit to students in the College.

Chiropractic, The Way to Bodily Harmony

Since its discovery in 1895, Chiropractic has been a blessing to millions of people. Many, who were resigned to a life of pain and disease have been restored to health under chiropractic care. Traditionally, the majority who have been helped have come after attending other healing practitioners.

Chiropractic is a completely different approach to health. It is based on the principle that harmony or ease within the body is the normal body function. An absence of health is an unnatural state called dis-ease or lack of normal body function. Chiropractors are not concerned with treating or covering up disease symptoms but with restoring health. Chiropractors have said for years that diseases, no matter what they are medically labelled, are usually signs that the body is not working in harmony. The Medical Therapeutic approach is to try to fight these diseases individually. The Chiropractic approach is to restore health.

Your nervous system is made up of your brain, your spinal cord and spinal nerves. Messages are assembled in the brain and carried through the spinal cord and into every area of the body via the nervous system. The bones of the spine protect the spinal cord and nerves because of their extreme importance to the function of the body. Sometimes a bone in the spine can move or be moved out of its normal position. It will then press on spinal nerves, a situation which the chiropractor calls a "subluxation". The effects of a subluxation can be observed, but often the damage occurs so slowly that it may take months, even years, to produce a noticeable malfunction in the body. These malfunctions can manifest themselves in many ways, but often the problem is highlighted by pain in the body's structure, including the spine, shoulder, neck, arm or leg. Chiropractors specialize in locating and correcting these subluxations, and by doing so, restoring the body's normal function.

The doctor or Chiropractic will carry out what is called an "adjustment" to the spine, correcting any misalignment which is causing problems. Naturally, the body will therefore function better when the nerve system is free of interference.

Under regular chiropractic care, the correct position of the bones in the spine is maintained to allow a better flow of mental impulses, resulting in greater harmony in the body and thereby a healthier life.

To ensure that you have correct chiropractic care, you should make sure that the practitioner you attend is a fully qualified doctor of chiropractic. Fully trained doctors of Chiropractic in this country will have completed at least four years full time training at a recognised Chiropractic College and most will be members of the Chiropractic Association of Ireland. If you have any queries about Chiropractic, you can contact Dr. Linda M. Finley who has recently moved her practice from Clonsilla, where she has been for three years, to Maynooth. Dr. Finley's Phone Number is 6285962.

STREET TALKING

St. Patrick's weekend marked the opening of the Country Shop Restaurant in the evenings. I spoke with proprietor and chef John Bennett about his ideas of what his restaurant has to offer.

Resident in Maynooth for twelve years, John trained and worked in the Burlington Hotel, Dublin, Belview Palace in Bern, Switzerland and most recently in The Station House Hotel, Kilmessan.

He believes it is altogether possible to provide well prepared and good-food in pleasant surroundings for a reasonable price. Many restaurants he says provide some of these but John successfully provides all.

Instead of extensive advertising, John has chosen to grow with the business. There is a danger of rapid expansion and finding oneself ill-prepared, this way the business grows with the demand - depending on the good recommendation passing from one friend to another.

The informal atmosphere that characterises the day and lunch time buffet is maintained by night - on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays there is a transformation that makes it a restaurant.

The King's pattern cutlery comes out - green and white table linen looks fresh against pine furniture padded with deep green cushioning. John bakes his own bread and cakes and makes a beautiful soup. He serves fresh fish and because his own speciality is sauces there is always interesting and new ideas to choose from - Trout in avocado paupiettes for instance.

The Table D'Hote menu, a five course most substantial meal is reasonably priced from £10 - £14 beginning with the chicken or try the duckling. And there's A La Carte from £7 - £9 main course.

The Wine List includes Australian wine plus champagne. This customer enjoyed the novelty of being received individually having rung the bell and being escorted to her table by a friendly attentive waitress.

Congratulations to John on his opening.

G.A.A. NOTES

Our junior B footballers won the first round of the championship by beating Clongarey on a score of 0.16 to 0.2. This was a good all round performance by Maynooth but it must be said that the opposition was sub-standard.

UNDER 14 FEILE NA nOG

Maynooth got off to a great start in this years U14 Feile Na nOg competition with a very impressive win over Na Fianna in the First Round on a score line of Maynooth 7 - 14, Na Fianna 1 - 5. In the second round which was played on Sunday, 20th May, in Rathcoffey, Caragh provided much stiffer opposition. From the throw in Caragh assisted by the stiff breeze took control of the game and after twenty minutes were leading by 1 - 3 to 0 - 2 and but for an outstanding performance by Peter Grant at Full Back for Maynooth, Caragh could have been further ahead.

Maynooth came more into the game towards the end of the half with a well taken goal to leave the half time score Caragh 1 - 3, Maynooth 1 - 2. In the second half Maynooth assisted by the breeze took control but could not get the vital score until with about ten minutes left E. Harrett sent in a high ball which ended in the back of the net. Maynooth added a point by P. Burke and a goal by P. Flood to win by 3 - 4 to 1 - 4. Those were both very good performances from Maynooth who are now through to the Semi-Final stage. The team is as follows:

T. Fay, P. Leacy, P. Grant, S. Noonan, J. Higgins, E. Hassett, M. Greene, J. Lawlor, O. Nevin, N. Gillick, P. Burke, D. Mooney, C. Ryan, H. Nevin, P. Farrell.

Subs: A. Gaffney, T. Farrell, S. Griffin, D. Nevin, M. Nugent, P. Flood, D. Murtagh, F. Murtagh, C. Ashe, J. Ros-siter, E. Kerr, R. Murphy, B. McGlinchey, D. Farrell.

This team is also doing very well in the North Dublin League. More about that next month.

MINOR FOOTBALL LEAGUE

While fielding a young team Maynooth have done quite well with winning against Fr. Prendergast's Kilcullen, Robertstown, St. Laurences and Clogherinkoe but losing to Rbt. Emmets, Ballykelly and O'Tooles. With one match left to play against Celbridge, Maynooth are in a very good position to reach the Play Off Situation of the league. The team is as follows: D. Fleming, D. Ryan, M. O'Shea, K. Killoran, J. Dempsey, F. Leavy, E. Dunne, A. Burke, J. Nevin, P. Byrne, M. Kelly, M. Madden, S. Horan, M. Downey, J. Clarke, J. Lee, G. Kelly, C. Gallagher, D. Scarff, B. Nevin, B. Lawlor, P. O'Toole, G. Horan, S. Molloy.

We were exhibitors at the Maynooth Spring Fair again this year and here we wish to thank all those who helped us in any way to make this a success, our sincere thanks in particular to the proprietor of Ultravision, Maynooth Shopping Centre for lending us the video and the Dublin Co. Board for lending us the Leinster Senior football Championship Cup. Also we wish to thank the proprietor of the Leinster Arms for donating a set of jerseys to our senior teams. The presentation was made by the ever courteous and very popular manager, Mr. Paddy O'Neill.

The first of our clubs super draws was held on Friday night 18th May and first ticket to be drawn for the big prize of a new Nissan Micra car was held by Jim Moore, of Jims Shoe Repairs, Maynooth Shopping Centre. Jim proved to be a very popular winner indeed and on behalf of the club we wish him and his wife and family many years of happy motoring. Next draw is on Friday 22nd June in the Roost. All our loyal supporters and everybody who contributed to this draw will be happy to hear that it was a big success and that all proceeds goes to the development of our new pavilion at the Moyglare Road grounds. We are most grateful for your support. I will be writing in detail about the U16 footballers and the U12 and U14 hurlers in the next issue of the Newsletter.

At a reception held recently at the Spa Hotel in Lucan, Maynooth residents Ted Gaffney and Don Foley were presented with the Hella/ECCO Awards as Champions for the third successive year.

This marks the first occasion on which a crew has won this prestigious title three times in a row.

With the Bridgestone Golf Gti 1.8 for sale at the moment Ted has decided not to contest the Championship next year and will concentrate instead on building a new car for the '91/'92 season. Don however will once again defend his Navigators title next season and is currently having discussions with a number of drivers with this aim in mind. He has already agreed to contest the Circuit of Ireland Retrospective with Terry Dooley in an RS2000 next September as well as the Hideout Rally and Canbog Rally which they won last year.

RALLY CHAMPIONS 3rd TIME VICTORIOUS

Ted and Don will resume their partnership for the 1991/'92 season and should be testing the replacement for the Bridgestone Golf towards the end of next season.

Hella - ECCO east coast championship winners; Don Foley and Ted Gaffney being presented with their awards.

Now that the season has come to a close it is disappointing to report that we did not figure in any of the honours lists.

With the bleeding of some of our younger players during the season the experience gained should stand them in good stead for the future.

The integration of these younger players with our more seasoned campaigners should ensure that we regain our high status among the top clubs once more.

The club would like to extend a hearty homecoming to Finbar Cullen and trust that the support given by the club to the campaign for Justice for the Winchester Three was of some help in strengthening the case for an early release.

The club extends best wishes for the future to player Derek Murray on the occasion of his recent marriage to Pauline Farrell.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Lenny Murphy on the recent death of his father Joe.

MAYNOOTH COMMUNITY GAMES

Congratulations to our under 10 Draughts Team who won gold medals in the Co. finals. Great credit is due to their manager Breda Gormally and her son John, who have given so much of their time to training the team and also the use of their home as a meeting and training place for the team. As far as Community Games are concerned those people are few and far between. This is the first time in over 12 years in Community Games that Gold medals were won in Draughts. The team were Geraldine O'Gorman, Brid-Ann O'Shea, Christopher Arthurs, Brendan Cody-Kenny, Gearoid Higgins, Thomas Halton and William McWeeney. Great credit is due to this panel for their hard work and we wish them the very best in the Leinster Finals.

Our tennis team are unfortunately out of the finals after a good battle against a very strong Naas team. The team were Enda Lyons, Fergal Ward, Rory McDonagh, Edward Keogh, Alison McDonald, Caoimhe O'Sullivan, Lisa Loughnane and Emer O'Sullivan. We'd like to thank Tom O'Sullivan for all his hard work with this team. At the time of going to press we believe that our Hurling and Soccer teams are also out of the finals, but well done to all the teams and managers for participation, as that is what Community Games is about.

Our Variety team is still going through their paces under the guidance of Fiona and Ann O'Connor. They have done trojan work with this team and we wish them the best in the County Finals. All our individual competitions are now over and all winners will be printed in the next edition of the Newsletter.

MAYNOOTH SUMMER PROJECT

Registration Day for the project is Wednesday 4th July at 10.30 a.m. in the Geraldine hall, The Harbour, and the project commences on Monday 9th with a picnic in Carton. We have all our usual outings booked with some new additions. We have our Swimming to Monkstown, Rounders in Leixlip, trip to Bridestown Farm, Bar-B-Que in Donadea, Bowling and Trip to Marley Park, Hell Fire Club, Night Hike, Rock Climbing, Orienteering, Pauls Dublin, Scavenger Hunt, Crafts and Fishing so there must be something there to suit all tastes. As you can see our hard working committee have been very busy for the past 4 months looking and organising all these events. This programme does not just happen on the day of registration, months of work goes into it beforehand which makes for a very good and organised Project. A full programme of events for July will be printed in the July edition of the Newsletter.
